

WORD	MEANING
absentmindedness	a lack of attention or awareness to what you are doing or what is happening around you [synonym: inattentiveness] accountableness	the quality or state of being answerable or accountable acquaintanceship	the state of being familiar to sb in a way that involves less intimate relation than friendship acquisitiveness	excessive interest in acquiring and owning money or new possessions (material things) in a greedy way [synonyms: covetousness, hoarding, materialism] acrimoniousness	(of an argument, a speech, discussion, behavior, etc.) the fact or quality of having strong bitter, sharp or harsh feelings and words (b). state of having a strong unpleasant taste or smell advantageousness	the quality or state of being good, useful, helpful or favorable in a particular situation [synonym: profitableness] adventurousness	(a). the trait of being willing to take risks and try new ideas, methods, things or experiences (b). a state of having full of new, exciting or dangerous ideas, methods, things or experiences [synonyms: audaciousness, boldness, daringness] ambidextrousness	the fact or property of being equally skillful with each hand antagonistically 16	In a manner that shows or feels dislike or opposition [synonym: hostility] anthropocentric	believing that humans are the most significant or central entity of the universes anthropocentrism	the belief that humans are the most significant or central entity of the universes anthropomorphic	treating gods, animals or objects as if they have characteristics (in terms of appearance, behavior, etc.) of human beings anthropomorphism	treatment of gods, animals or objects as if they have characteristics (in terms of appearance, behavior, etc.) of human beings approachability	the quality or state of being easy to get to [synonym: accessibility] approachableness	the quality of being friendly and easy to meet, talk to, or deal with (of a place) the quality of being able to be reached from a particular direction or position, or by a particular method. [synonym: accessible] argumentatively	in a manner that shows someone wants to argue argumentativeness	the state or fact of showing tendency to argue ascertainableness	the quality of being able to be found out, determined, fixed, etc.
asymptomatically	(of a person or illness) in a manner that shows no symptoms atmospherically	(a). in a manner that relates to the mixture of gases that surrounds a place, earth, planet, star, etc. (b). in a manner that creates an emotional or thrilling mood bibliographical	(a). relating to a list of books or articles about a specific subject or by a specific author or publisher (b). relating to a list of all of the resources such as articles, books that have been used in the process of researching a work (c). relating to the study of the history of books and their publication or production biodegradability	the fact of breaking down of organic matter to the base substances by microorganisms, such as bacteria and fungi blasphemousness	(of behavior or language) the fact of showing contempt or disrespect for God, deity, religion or holy/sacred objects [synonym: irreverence] broadmindedness	the state or quality of being open to new things, ideas or improvements, etc.

bureaucratically	In a manner that is connected with the system of extremely complicated and often unnecessary official rules and ways of doing things that a government or an organization has [synonyms: administratively, civically, governmentally, procedurally] cannibalistically	(a). in a manner that relates to the practice or behavior of eating the flesh of a human being by another human being (b). in a manner that relates to the practice or behavior of eating the flesh of an animal by the member of its own species cantankerousness	bad-tempered, quarrelsome, difficult or irritating to handle [synonym: crankiness] carnivorousness	(a). (of an animal) the fact of feeding on the flesh of other animals (b). (of a plant) the fact of being able to trap and digest small creatures such as insects cartographically	In a manner that relates to the art, science, process or practice of drafting, drawing or making maps ceremoniousness	the fact of behaving or being performed in an extremely formal, serious or polite way [synonym: dignified] chauvinistically	In a way that seems to have an aggressive, unreasonable and enthusiastic belief that your own group, country, etc. is the best or most important chemotherapeutic	relating to the treatment of a disease, especially cancer by means of chemical substances that stop the growth of cancer cells chemotherapeutical	in a manner that relates to the treatment of a disease, especially cancer by means of chemical substances that stop the growth of cancer cells cinematographer	a person who specializes in the art and methods relating to the shooting of a film that involves shots, lighting, operating a camera, etc.
circumnavigation	(a). the action or process of traveling or sailing all the way around the island, continent, world, etc. (b). the action of going around something in order to avoid an obstacle (c). the action of avoiding a problem, difficulty or unpleasant thing, etc.
circumstantially	relating to, or derived from or dependent on circumstances collaboratively	(a). in the manner of working together with sb in order to create/produce a particular thing or achieve a particular goal [synonym: cooperate] (b). in the manner of working secretly to help the enemy of your country during a war combustibleness	the quality, state or fact of being able to catch fire and burn easily comfortableness	the quality or state of being physically or mentally relaxed and feeling no pain commemorial	relating to the act or an instance of remembering or memorizing sb/sth commendableness	the quality or state of being worthy of admiration or praise commercialization	the act or fact of managing, using, or exploiting sth and making them available as a commodity to gain profit, especially in a way that other people does not welcome communicableness	(a). (of an infectious disease) the quality of being able to be transmitted from one person or animal to another (b). (of a message) the quality of being able to be communicated from one person or animal to another communicational	relating to the act or process of sharing or exchanging ideas, information or news communicatively	in a manner that is characterized by willingness, eagerness, or ability to talk, exchange or impart ideas, information or news communicativeness	the quality of being willing, eager, or able to talk, exchange or impart ideas, information or news companionableness	the quality of being close, social and friendly compassionately	in a sympathetic way [synonyms: benevolently, empathetically, sympathetically] comprehensibility	the state or fact of being possible to be understood [synonyms: explicability, intelligibility] comprehensibleness	the quality, state or fact of being possible to be understood [synonym: intelligibleness] conceivableness	the quality or state of being possible to imagine or think of configurability	the state or quality of allowing rearrangement or adjustment conformableness	the quality or state of being similar in character, form or nature to something connoisseurship	a kind of expertise in a particular subject such as arts, food, drink, etc. consanguineously	in a manner that relates to or involves people of the same blood or origin, descended from the same ancestor conscientiously	In a manner that involves great care, attention [synonym: alertly] conscientiousness	the quality of wishing to do one's work or duty attentively, correctly, properly and thoroughly [synonyms: meticulousness, fussiness] consequentially	In a manner that is of great importance or significance [synonym: inevitably] conservativeness	tendency to preserve or maintain existing conditions, institutions, traditions, etc. conspicuousness	the quality of being very noticeable or easy to see, especially in a way that is not wanted constitutionalism	a doctrine that a government's authority is determined or limited by a body of established set of principles or constitution constitutionally	(a). in a manner that relates to the established set of principles of nation, state, organization or group (b). in a manner that is allowed or limited by the established set of principles of a nation, state, organization or group (c). in a manner that relates to the ability of the body or mind to stay fit, healthy and strong contemporaneous	happening, originating, living or existing in the same period of time [synonyms: contemporary, simultaneous] contemporaneously	in a way that is happening, originating, living or existing in the same period of time [synonyms: contemporarily, simultaneously] contemptibility	the quality or state of not deserving any admiration or respect at all [synonym: despicability] contemptibleness	the quality or state of not deserving any admiration or respect at all contemptuousness	the state of feeling or showing extreme dislike, hatred or disapproval for sb/sth [synonyms: disdainfulness, scornfulness] contentiousness	the quality or state of being argumentative, irritable or quarrelsome contractibleness	the fact of being able to be shrunk or contract controversially	in a manner that creates controversy or intense public disagreement conventionality	(a). the state or quality of being based on or in accordance with conduct, standards, etc that has been generally accepted, believed, or done in a society for a long time [synonyms: orthodoxy, traditionalism] (b). the tendency to follow conduct, standards, etc that is generally accepted, believed, or done in a society and seems to be boring conversableness	the quality or state of being easy and pleasant to talk with convertibleness	the fact of being able to be changed to a different character, form, function, or use: [synonym: changeableness] corroboratively	in a manner that is characterized by serving to support, establish a statement, theory, or finding by providing information or evidence [synonym: confirmatively] corruptibleness	the quality or state of being susceptible to do something dishonest or immoral decomposability	the extent, state or quality of breaking into constituent parts or elements delightsomeness	the quality or state of having great pleasure demonstrableness	the quality of being apparent or evident in a clear way, or capable of being proved in a logical way differentiation	(a). the action or process of showing, finding or recognizing the difference between two things [synonym: demarcation] (b). treatment of people or things in a different and unfair way [synonym: discrimination] disadvantageous	creating unfavorable circumstances for sb/sth to succeed or do something especially in comparison with other people or things that are getting successful [synonym: detrimental] disadvantageously	In a manner that involves creating unfavorable circumstances for sb/sth to succeed or do something especially in comparison with other people or things that are getting successful [synonym: detrimentally] disagreeableness	the quality or state of being unpleasant, unfriendly or bad-tempered discernibleness	(a). the quality or state of being able to be decided, found out, known, recognized, or understood in spite of not being very noticeable [synonym: perceptibility] (b). the quality or state of being able to be seen, smelt or heard through senses with difficulty [synonym: distinguishableness] discontinuously	(a). in a manner that has intervals; in a manner that is characterized by stopping and starting again (b). in a manner that lacks sequence [synonyms: interruptedly, intermittently] discriminatingly	in a manner that is characterized by the ability to show good judgment and understanding about the quality of sb/sth [synonyms: judiciously, perceptively, sensibly] disestablishment	an act of depriving of an established status, especially of a Church or similar organized group dishonorableness	the quality or state of not deserving admiration, honor or respect [synonym: shamefulness] disinterestedness	the quality or state of being impartial; the quality or state of not being involved in a particular event, circumstance or situation dispassionately	in an unemotional, rational, reasonable and unbiased manner [synonyms: impassively, objectively] disproportionally	In a manner that is not proportional or relative to sth disproportionate	too large or too small when compared with something else; out of proportion in amount, size, etc. in comparison with something else disproportionately	to an extent that is too large or too small when compared with something else [synonyms: erratically, inconsistently, unduly] disreputableness	the quality or state of lacking respectability reputation, or grace [synonyms: disreputability] efficaciousness	(of something) the property of being capable of producing the effects or results that are desired, intended or wanted, especially of a drug or a medical treatment [synonym: effectiveness] enthusiastically	in a way that makes it clear that you are intensely excited about something [synonyms: eagerly, earnestly, fervently, passionately] entrepreneurial	having the attitude, courage or qualities of an entrepreneur or industrialist; willing to take risks with the intention of making a profit [synonym: industrial] entrepreneurially	in a manner that shows the attitude, courage or qualities of an entrepreneur or industrialist; in a manner that shows the willingness to take risks with the intention of making a profit [synonym: industrially] entrepreneurship	the activity or process of creating a business or businesses, bearing any of its financial risks with an aim to generate profit exceptionableness	the quality of being liable to exception, disapproval, objection or opposition expeditiousness	The quality of being quick and attentive to detail without wasting time, money, energy, etc [synonyms: celerity, rapidity] extraordinarily	(a). in a very unusual, unexpected, strange or remarkable way (b). to a remarkable amount, extent or degree [synonym: extremely] extraterrestrial	existing, happening, originating or occurring outside the limits of the earth or its atmosphere [synonym: celestial] [n.]

extraterritorial	located outside the territorial boundaries or jurisdiction of the country extraterritorially	In a manner that is located outside the territorial boundaries or jurisdiction of the country flirtatiousness	(of behavior, actions or individuals) the property of suggesting a sexual interest that is not serious, through comments or actions [synonym: playfulness] gastrointestinal	relating to, including of, or affecting the stomach and intestines gastronomically	In a manner that is connected with preparing, cooking and eating good and quality food grandiloquently	(of a person, their language or writing) in a manner that is characterized by using long, complicated or difficult words with an intention to impress people [synonym: pompously] hardheartedness	an absence of concern, feeling, or compassion for the well-being of others. [synonym: heartlessness] heterogeneously	in a manner that is characterized by the composition of arts, elements, people or things that are unrelated from each heterogeneousness	(a). the quality or state of being composed of many different, dissimilar, diverse or unrelated elements, ingredients, or parts (b). the property of being not of the same kind or type (chemistry) denoting a process involving substances in solid, liquid, or gaseous homogeneousness	(a). the property of being composed of many same, similar or related elements, ingredients, or parts (b). The property of being of the same kind or type identifiableness	the quality or state of being able to be recognized ignominiousness	characterized by deserving public embarrassment, shame or humiliation and loss of honor [synonym: disgracefulness] illimitableness	the quality or state of being without limit or bounds

Illustriousness	the fact of being very famous or popular, and much admired, especially because of your great achievement(s). [synonyms: eminence, reputation, recognition] immeasurableness	the quality or state of being so large or great that it cannot be measured or known precisely impenetrability	(a). the state, condition or quality of being impassable (b). the state, quality of being incomprehensible or inexplicable impenetrableness	the quality of being impassable or inaccessible imperceptibility	the quality, state or fact of being extremely slight or small and therefore impossible or very difficult to be seen or felt, or affect the senses imperceptibleness	so slight or gradual that cannot be detectable or distinguishable by a sense or by the mind imperishableness	the quality or state of being not subject to decay/decompose or come to an end impermeableness	the quality or state of not permitting liquid or gas to go through impermissibility	the fact of being not permissible imperturbability	the quality or state of staying calm and controlled in spite of dangers, difficulties or problems imperturbableness	the quality or state of staying calm and controlled without getting affected by problems or difficulties imponderability	the quality or state of being unable to be determined, evaluated or weighed with exactness imponderableness	the quality of being difficult or impossible to estimate, guess or assess impracticableness	the quality or state of being unable to be implemented or operable impressionability	the quality or state of being easily impressed or influenced impressionableness	the quality of being easily impressed or influenced by other people inaccessibility	(a). the quality, state or fact of being difficult or impossible to reach or to get [synonym: inapproachability] b). (of language or artistic work) the quality, state or fact of being not easy to understand or appreciate inaccessibleness	the quality or state of being difficult or impossible to reach or access inadmissibility	the quality, state or fact of being unable to be accepted or allowed, esp. in a court of law [synonym: prohibition] inapplicableness	the quality or state of being irrelevant or unsuitable inauspiciousness	the quality of suggesting that something will not be successful or positive in future incalculableness	the quality of being too large or great to be calculated, measured or estimated incombustibility	the quality or state of being fireproof incombustibleness	the quality, state or fact of being not able to catch fire and burn easily incommensurability	the state or quality of being unable to be measured or compared by the same or common basis, standard or measure incommensurable	that cannot be measured or compared by the same or common basis, standard or measure incommensurably	In a manner that involves the inability to be measured or compared by the same standard or measure incommensurately	in a manner that is characterized by being out of keeping or proportion with sth in size, importance, quality, etc. [synonyms: disproportionately, unequally] incommunicability	the state or quality of being unable to be communicated, imparted, shared, etc. incommunicableness	the quality of being inexpressible or beyond description incomparableness	the quality of being so good that nothing else can match up [synonym: uniqueness] incompatibility	(a). (of two or more actions, things ideas, etc.) the fact of being so different that they cannot be used, mixed or exist, etc. together because of basic differences (b). (of two people) the fact of being so different from each other that they can't be able to live or work happily together (c). (of a thing or person) the fact of being not reliable or able to coexist with another [synonym: incongruity] incompatibleness	the quality or state of not deserving any admiration or respect at all incomprehensible	that is impossible or extremely difficult to be understood [synonyms: inexplicable, unfathomable, unintelligible] incomprehensibly	In a manner that is impossible or extremely difficult to be understood [synonyms: inexplicably, unfathomably, unintelligibly] incompressibility	the quality or state of being unable to be compressed or condensed inconceivability	the state of being impossible to imagine or think of inconceivableness	the quality of being unthinkable, unimaginable, mind-blowing or beyond belief incongruousness	the quality of being inappropriate, incompatible and unsuitable inconsequential	of little or no importance or significance [synonym: trivial] inconsequentially	In a manner that is of little or no importance or significance [synonym: trivially] inconsiderableness	the quality of being very small in size, amount, or extent and thus appearing unimportant inconsolableness	the quality or state of being impossible or difficult to make sb feel better inconspicuously	in a manner that is not easily or readily noticed or seen; in a way that is not attracting attention [synonyms:

inconspicuousness	the quality of being not easily or readily noticed or seen [synonyms: ordinariness, unobtrusiveness] incontestableness	the quality of being impossible to argue about or disagree with incontrovertible	being obviously true and cannot be disagreed with, disputed, questioned or denied [synonym: indisputable, undeniable, unquestionable] incontrovertibly	In a manner that is obviously true and cannot be disagreed with, disputed, questioned or denied [synonym: indisputably, undeniably, unquestionably] incorrigibility	(relating to a person or their behavior) the quality, state or fact of having bad habits or faults which cannot be changed, corrected, reformed or improved [synonym: incurability] incorrigibleness	(relating to a person or their behavior) the quality, state or fact of having bad habits or faults which cannot be changed, corrected, reformed or improved [synonym: incurability] incorruptibleness	the quality, state or fact of not being susceptible to do something dishonest or immoral incredulousness	the state or quality of being unable to believe something because it being extremely surprising or shocking [synonym: incredulity] indecipherability	the quality or state of being unable to be read or understood [synonym: illegibility] indefatigableness	the quality of being always determined and enthusiastic to achieve your goal and never willing to admit defeat indefeasibility	the quality or state of being not liable to be lost, voided, resisted, undone or overturned, etc. [synonym: invincibility] indefensibleness	(a). the quality, state or fact of not being able to be maintained as right, justified or valid (b). the quality, state or fact of not being able to be protected against physical attack [synonym: unprotected, vulnerability] indefinableness	the quality or state of being impossible to describe, express or explain clearly indestructibility	the quality, state or fact of being very strong and almost impossible to be destroyed, broken, or ruined, etc. [synonyms: durability, eternity, imperishability] indestructibleness	the quality, state or fact of not being able to be destroyed or damaged indigestibility	the state of being very difficult or impossible for the stomach to break down the food - that has been eaten - into smaller forms that can be absorbed by the body indigestibleness	(a). the quality, state or fact of not being able to be easily digested (b). (of ideas, opinions, etc.) the quality, state or fact of being difficult to understand or figure out indispensability	the quality or state of being absolutely necessary or crucial indispensableness	the quality or state of being absolutely necessary or crucial indisputableness	the quality of being obviously clear, true, or certain indomitableness	the quality or state of being so strong, brave, tough, determined, etc. that it can't be defeated or frightened indubitableness	the quality or state of being unable to be doubted or questioned industriousness	the quality of being hard-working or diligent inequitableness	the quality of being partial, unfair, or unjust inexcusableness	the quality or state of being Impossible to excuse, forgive or justify inexhaustibility	the quality or state of being unable to be completely used up or finished because having in large quantity or amount inexhaustibleness	the quality, state or fact of being unable to be completely used up or finished because having in large quantity or inexplicableness	the quality of being unable to be explained or understood inexpressibility	the quality or state of being Impossible to express inexpressibleness	the quality, state or fact of being Impossible to express inextensibility	the quality, state or fact of being unable to be stretched or drawn out to make it bigger or longer inextinguishable	unable to be put to end from burning or existing [synonym: unquenchable] inextricableness	the quality or state of being unable to be divided, separated, freed, or escaped from inflammableness	the quality or state of being capable to set on fire easily inhospitableness	the quality or state of being unwelcoming or unfriendly injudiciousness	the quality, state or fact of not showing sensible or wise judgment; the quality, state or fact of being inappropriate in a particular situation [synonym: foolishness] inquisitorially	relating to a legal process in which the court investigate the facts before making a judgment inseparableness	the quality of being indivisible or always together instantaneousness	the quality of being done or occurred immediately and very quickly insubordinately	(of a person or behavior) in a manner that is characterized by not obeying rules and orders or showing respect for sb who in authority [synonyms: defiantly, disobediently] insubordination	the act of refusing to obey rules and orders or show respect for sb who in authority [synonyms: defiance, disobedience, noncompliance] insubstantially	in a way that is not very large, strong important [synonym: weakly] insufferableness	the quality or state of being so annoying, unpleasant or uncomfortable, that it can't be tolerated insuperableness	(of a problem) the quality of being so great or severe that it cannot be defeated, negotiated, or dealt with successfully insupportableness	the quality of being unable to be supported or justified the quality of being unable to be endured or bearable intelligibleness	the quality, state or fact of being very easy to understand or comprehend [synonyms: comprehensibility, coherence] intensification	the act of making or becoming greater, stronger, or more extreme [synonyms: amplification, escalation, strengthening] intensification	the act of making or becoming more powerful in strength or magnitude. [synonyms: escalation, strengthening] interchangeability	the quality or state of being able to be replaced with each other without making any difference or without being noticed intercontinental	existing, occurring, traveling, conducted between, or involving two or more continents [synonyms: global, worldwide] interdepartmental	existing, occurring, conducted between, or involving two or more departments, especially in a business, academic institution, or government, etc.

interdependence	the quality or condition of a group of people or things being dependent on each other for mutual benefit interdependency	the quality or condition of two or more things or people depending on each other interdisciplinary	existing, occurring, conducted between, or involving two or more branches of knowledge [synonyms: global, worldwide] intergenerational	existing, occurring, conducted among, or involving several generations or age categories intergovernmental	existing, occurring, conducted between, or involving two or more governments or divisions of a government interminableness	the quality of being continuing for so long time that it becomes boring or irritating interoperability	the ability of two or more components or systems to exchange information and use it interrelatedness	the state of being related or connected with each other interrelationship	the way in which each of two or more things or people are closely related to the others intractableness	the quality or state of being not easily directed, governed or managed invulnerability	the quality or state of being unable to be damaged, harmed or injured invulnerableness	the quality of being immune to attack, harm or damage irreclaimableness	the quality of being not able to be reclaimed or reformed irreconcilableness	the quality or state of being so incompatible, opposed or conflicting that agreement is impossible Irrecoverableness	the quality or state of not being able to be recovered or regained irredeemableness	the quality or state of being impossible to change, correct or improve irreducibleness	the quality, state or fact of being unable to be made smaller or simpler in amount, size, form, etc.
Irreligiousness	the quality, state or fact of being neglectful of or opposed to religion; the quality, state or fact of having not any religious belief; the quality, state or fact of showing no respect or lack of respect for religion [synonym: profaneness] irremediableness	the state or quality of being beyond repair irreparableness	the quality of being impossible to be repaired or made right again irrepressibility	(a). (of a person) the fact of being happy,lively, enthusiastic and energetic [synonym: ebullience] (b). (of feelings, etc.) the quality or state of being impossible to be controlled, restrained or stopped irrepressibleness	the quality, state or fact of being so livelyand energetic that it cannot be repressed, stopped controlled or restrained irreproachability	the quality or state of being completelyblameless or flawless irreproachableness	the quality of being blameless, faultlessin every respect irreproducibility	the quality, state or fact of beingimpossible to reproduce or duplicate irresistibleness	the quality, state or fact of being sopowerful or strong that it is impossible to be resisted or opposed irresponsibleness	the quality, state or fact of having nosense of responsibility or accountability irretrievability	the state or quality of being difficult orimpossible to recover or repair irretrievableness	the quality or state of being unable to berepaired, reversed or recovered irreversibleness	the quality, state or fact of beingimpossible to change or return to a previous condition irrevocableness	the quality or state of being Impossible tocancel, change or retract jurisprudential	connected with the science or philosophyof law jurisprudentially	with regard to the science, study orphilosophy of law and the principles on which law is based knowledgeableness	the state, quality, or measure of beingwell-informed or educated lackadaisically	in a manner that doesn't show enoughcare, determination, effort, enthusiasm or interest [synonym: apathetically] lightheadedness	a feeling that you are about to faint[synonym: dizziness] lightheartedness	the quality or state of being joyful, amused,and carefree, etc. magnanimousness	marked by the strong principles ofkindness, generosity, and forgiveness especially towards your enemy or a competitor/rival [synonym: high-mindedness] maneuverability	the quality of being easy to move and directinto different positions mellifluousness	(of music, sound or voice) the property ofbeing pleasingly sweet and smooth or very pleasant to listen to melodramatically	in a manner that involves behaving orshowing emotions or excitements in an extreme, an unusual and exaggerated way [synonyms: histrionically, theatrically] merchantability	the quality or state of being suitable fortrading (buying and selling) mischievousness	(a). the trait of enjoying playing tricks andcausing harm or trouble to people [synonyms: impish, naughty, playful] (b). the fact or trait of causing or intended to cause harm, trouble or annoyance multifariousness	the quality of being made of many different elements, individuals, parts, types, or varieties [synonym: diversity] neurotransmitter	any of a group of chemical substances released by neurons that transmits messages between neurons or between neurons and muscles noninterventionist	favoring the principle of not interfering in the affairs of other nations [n.] obstreperousness	the quality of being difficult to control or deal with, aggressive and noisy overconsumption	the action, situation or fact of consuming something too often or too much parliamentarian	(a). a member of a parliament, especially who is an expert on the formal rules/procedures of Parliament and takes parts in debates relating to a parliament or its members parsimoniousness	the quality or state of being not willing to spend money or to give/use much of something [synonyms: meanness, niggardliness] phosphorescence	a kind of glow or weak/soft light that is produced in the dark without using noticeable heat phototypesetter	a machine for film-setting or phototypesetting preposterousness	the quality of being extremely unreasonable, senseless and foolish [synonyms: absurdity, outlandishness] presumptuousness	the fact, state or quality of being rude or too confident in a way that involves something without having any right or authority ignoring respect for other people [synonyms: arrogance, conceitedness] pretentiousness	(a). an attempt to appear or sound cleverer, more important, intelligent, significant, etc. than you are in order to impress other people (b); an attempt to be sth that you are not, in order to impress [synonyms: ostentatious, pompous] progressiveness	the state or quality of favoring new ideas, reforms, improvements psychoanalytical	relating to the method of treating mental disorders using a set of psychological theories and therapeutic techniques punctiliousness	the quality, state or fact of being extremely attentive or careful to behave correctly or to perform your duties exactly they should be done [synonyms: assiduousness, meticulousness, scrupulousness] quarrelsomeness	the quality of being argumentative in nature questionability	the quality or state of being unlikely to be completely acceptable, correct, honest, true or reasonable [synonyms: dubiousness, unlikelihood] quintessentially	(a). in a manner that shows the perfect, ideal or typical example of sth (b). in a manner that shows the most important features or qualities of sth [synonym: essentially] repetitiousness	the quality, state or fact of involving sth, especially unnecessary and boring thing that is expressed or happening in the same way over and over again reprehensibility	the quality or state of being morally wrong and deserving blame, criticism or condemnation [synonyms: culpability, sanctimoniously	in a manner that involves an attempt to show you are better and morally superior to other people [synonym: self-righteously] sanctimoniousness	the quality, state or fact of trying to show you are better and morally superior to other people [synonym: self-righteousness] semiprofessional	actively engaged in an activity, such as in part-time for pay but not on a full-time basis	a person who is engaged in an activity, such as in a sport for pay but not on a full-time basis semitransparent	allowing some visibility but obscured sententiousness	the quality, state or fact of making an effort to appear to be sound important, impressive, intelligent or wise, especially by expressing moral opinions, in a way that is annoying serviceableness	the quality or state of being able to provide good service shortsightedness	(a). a condition of the eye that involves the inability to see objects in a clear way unless they are relatively close to the eyes (b). lack of imaginative power about how an action will affect the future [synonym: thoughtlessness] simultaneousness	the quality of being existed, occurred or operated at the same time sophisticatedly	(a). in a manner that has or shows a lot of experience of people and things from the world and social situations [synonym: gracefully] (b). (of an appliance, system, or technique) in a highly developed manner [synonym: complicatedly] sophisticatedly	in a manner that is characterized by having or showing a lot of worldly experience, knowledge and understanding, especially in relation to art, culture, literature, etc.

substitutability	the ability of goods or services to be replaced or exchanged by equivalent another similar good or service superciliousness	the quality, state or fact of behaving in a manner that shows you think you are better, more important than other people and ignores their opinions, beliefs, or ideas, etc. [synonyms: arrogance, disdain, haughtiness] superintendence	the arrangement or management of activity in a particular department, office, or organization superstitiously	In a manner that involves a belief that has no scientific basis; in a manner that is characterized by the belief that a particular event leads to good or bad luck [synonyms: irrationally, illogically] surreptitiousness	the quality of being obtained, done, made, etc. in a secret or unauthorized way [synonym: trickery] susceptibility	the quality, state or fact of being easily affected by sth sympathetically	in a way that shows that you care about somebody's problems or support somebody's views [synonyms: compassionately, considerately] tempestuousness	the quality of being full of strong emotions; the quality of being very stormy [synonym: turbulence] tendentiousness	a state of expressing a strong and controversial opinion about something transcontinental	(of a railway line, etc.) crossing a continent transferability	the quality of being conveyed or passed from one place, person, etc., to another [synonym: exchangeability] transfiguration	a complete change in the form or appearance of a person or thing into more beautiful, positive, or spiritual [synonyms: metamorphosis, transformation] transformational	relating to, characterized by, or concerned with producing a big change or improvement in a situation transliteration	the process of writing or printing words or letters using closest corresponding letters of a different alphabet or language transmissibility	(of a disease, characteristic or trait, etc.) the quality of being able to be transmitted or passed on from one person or organism to another